

Exploring America: A Photographic Journey

This traveling exhibit is a journey to explore our great country's National Parks and the places in between. So far these adventures have taken David Hares II over 40,000 miles in an attempt to capture the beauty and uniqueness of our country's treasures. These photographs are meant to trigger memories of times you may have spent in these wonderful places, to inspire you to see them again or experience them for the first time.
